YOUR GATEWAY TO SUCCESS

The Kingdom has the largest world-class health care facilities in the region. In addition to state-owned facilities, a large number of private establishments exist, offering health care services in all areas of specialization. While Saudi Arabia has one of the highest levels of health expenditures per capita in the world, there is a shortage of qualified hospital administrators who can manage the healthcare sector efficiently. Despite the efforts of the Ministry of Health to increase the number of Saudi medical professionals who specialize in management, the demand for qualified personnel to work in an already expanded healthcare sector exceeds the available local manpower. Alfaisal University's College of Business responds to this important need by offering an MBA track in Healthcare Management.
